Situation Important Information

The HoverPro series is no longer available within the state of California; this is driven by changes in CARB requirements which Honda Engines are no longer able to meet, and they are subsequently withdrawing from the small engine business in this state.

Complete service engines are no longer available for purchase in California.

Corrective Action After Sales Support

Service parts are still available through Toro; if you experience engine failure, contact your authorized Toro distributor for support.

Special Tools Required Not applicable.

Warranty Information only, not warrantable
